College of Liberal Arts

The purpose of the College of Liberal Arts is to meet the needs of modern education. In addition to the general program provided by the typical college, special courses are provided for students in the preliminary work of business administration, dentistry, engineering, law, medicine, nursing, and theology. and students may fulfill all the requirements of teachers' certificates. The administration is alert in the matter of efficiency in instruction, and insists on the very highest possible degree of excellency in all departments. The standard for regular degrees compares favorably with that of the best among our institutions of higher learning.

The tone of the institution is high in morals and scholarship. It has been and is very successful in stimulating and preparing students to do satisfactory work in recognized graduate, professional, and research institutions, in the United States and Canada.

Dean Bertram McProud

Teachers College

During the last few years, the growth of the Teachers College has been phenomenal. In accordance with that growth. many readjustments and extensions have been made. Its faculty consists of twenty-three thoroughly trained specialists.

The Training School is a laboratory for supervised teaching, consisting of the Secondary School, the Elementary School, and the Kindergarten-Primary School. The Secondary School, includes the Senior High School, and the Junior High School. The Senior High School is fully accredited with the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The Elementary School consists of an intermediate room, a demonstration fourth-grade room, and a secondary primary room.

The Kindergarten-Primary School consists of the kindergarten and the first grade.

With these readjustments, the future of the Teachers College is very promising. It is the hope of all the members of the faculty that this college may grow in its capacity to serve the state.

Dean Parvin Witte

College of Fine Arts

The College of Music has grown so rapidly the past few years that several new rooms have been added to care for the demand made by the students. Each department has strengthened its courses with the result of increased enrollment. The School of Music has bi-weekly recitals and frequent evening recitals for the advanced students.

The School of Expression is a vital part of the College. It has been responsible for some excellent plays this winter. In fact, the highest type plays that have ever been presented on the campus. The national fraternity Theta Alphi Phi, has sponsored all productions this winter.

The School of Arts has produced some fine work this year. There is some fine talent on the Wesleyan Campus, and the new director has done much to stimulate more interest in the department.

Anna Bradley Witte

Dean of Women

Anna Bradley Witte has been the new and efficient dean of women at Nebraska Wesleyan. Her office has been in our beautiful new library. The office has been open to the girls for a rest room whenever they care to use it. Dean Witte has been on the job all year and has worked at her position. She conducted a class for Freshman girls which has been helpful to them, as well as a class open to older girls that were interested.

Senior Recognition Day

The annual senior recognition day services took place Friday before Thanksgiving. Precisely at 10 o'clock seventy seniors in caps and gowns preceded by juniors wearing the yellow and brown, marched into chapel. The chaplain of the morning was Roscoe Chenoweth who delivered the main address. The class was presented to the chancelllor by Thelma Armbruster, the president, and Chancellor Schreckengast in return formally recognized the class. Several numbers were sung by a double quartet composed of Lucille Cunningham, Charotte Gantz, Vera Donner, Jennie Crook, Ross King, Albert Monkman, Maurice Peterson, John Calvert. Before the services the seniors met for breakfast in the parlors of the Methodist church.

The custom of having a recognition day for seniors to make their first appearance in caps and gowns was started by the class of 1911. Before that the seniors would appear in regalia whenever the spirit moved. On Friday before Thanksgiving that year the seniors marched into chapel as Prof. Johannes Magandanz played the processional. The address of the morning was made by Leigh Hanthorne, now the Methodist minister at Mt. Pleasant, Mich. After this the class was presented by John Starr, class president. Mr. Starr is now a Methodist minister in Illinois. Chancellor Clark A. Fulmer received the class for Nebraska Wesleyan.

The seniors of 1911 were escorted into chapel by the members of the junior class. The girls were in white while the men wore dark. The following year the juniors began the habit of wearing the yellow and brown togas on all official appearances.

Before the 1911 group met for the chapel hour they celebrated the opening of the day with breakfast, also held in the Methodist church. The toastmaster was W. J. Atwell, now professor of anatomy, University of Buffalo. Speeches were made by William A. Crossland now a banker at Laurel, Nebr., John Starr, Marietta Snow (assistant professor of Spanish, Nebraska Wesleyan) and Edith Riley, the present editor of The Alumnus.

Selection of 1926 Sponsor Judicious Act

There are sponsors and sponsors and sponsors. The Freshmen class claim to have for their sponsor a walking dictionary or at least one who wishes all his fair and unfair proteges to be one. In fact it is reported that he actually said no one had an education until he had worn out at least one dictionary. Pardon the frankness but no worn dictionaries or even partially worn books have been found in the possession of Wesleyan freshmen. However, they are learning, here's to the freshmen!

The Soph's have, so it is heard, a rather reactionary sponsor. It is said that he knows all the type reactions and can recognize them anywhere even on the be-spattered charts of organic chemistry students. He must be a wonder if he can tell what sort of a reaction the sophs are going to make when mixed with other elements.

The Senior sponsor, it behooves us to go slowly, is a lady sponsor. The Juniors admit that she has been rather effective. Rumor has it that she possesses wonderful charm, in fact they say she can charm everything from people who write bad English themes to great pipe organs.

Now the Juniors with their good taste, quick judgment and thinking and even quicker action seem to have made the best choice of all. Of course everyone knows that the Juniors are a modest and retiring bunch but they glory in one thing, their sponsor.

The Juniors, if pressed for a reason, would probably say that they chose their sponsor just because, with their power of prophecy, they knew he would make a good sponsor. No one can now question the prophetic mind of the Juniors for he has proved to be a wonderful sponsor. To add to the delight of the Juniors this dear Sponsor took unto himself a delightful wife that now they have a doubly good sponsor. Don't misunderstand, nothing is said of the wives of the other class sponsors.

The Junior sponsor has guided them through all difficulties. Last year he helped them to win from the freshmen and to entertain them at the Sophomore-Freshman reception. This year he has already helped them recognize the Seniors and their gracious entertainment at the Senior-Junior reception.

He has been a good sport and a friend to every student. Look upon his smiling face, John M. Aikman, Junior Sponsor.

In Memoriam

S. P. Smith

Fine Arts

HAZEL YETTER

An "active member" whose talents and willing service have been much in demand throughout her college course. Aside from her pursuit of the B. F. A. degree, Hazel has achieved professional success as a public school music supervisor in University Place, as director of the Junior choir and orchestra in First Church, teacher of a large piano class, and one season on the Chautauqua Circuit. She has also had many concert engagements with the Clark-Yetter Duo and string orchestras. But with all this "a modest flower whose charm but grows from hour to hour." The Alpha Kappa Delta Sisterhood are proud to claim her. After giving her Senior piano recital in January, she accepted the position of Music Supervisor in the schools at Culbertson, Nebraska.

JENNIE CROOK

The School of Music of the College of Fine Arts is justly proud of Jennie Crook, of University Place. Jennie is known and loved by student body and faculty alike for her outstanding ability, both as a musician and in many other ways her beautiful spirit of loyalty and co-operation of friendliness and sympathy and abiding good cheer. An "ideal" American college girl.

Miss Crook has been outstanding in many ways, as a Sophomore she was chosen by a large class as the representative woman. Last year she was Editor of a splendid Annual. This year she has done significant work as assistant director for Miss Marshall in the Girls' Glee Club. A pep meeting just "isn't" without Jennie at the piano. While Jennie has done highly commendable work in both Piano and Voice, her major is Theory.

She is a member of Alpha Kappa Delta, and the Senior Honorary fraternity, Purple Arqus. Jennie expects to do Public School Music supervising.

On the fifteenth day of December, 1923, Nebraska Wesleyan University School of Expression was granted the charter for the Nebraska Alpha chapter from the Grand Council of Theta Alpha Phi. The charter members who were given the authority to initiate candidates into the mysteries of the society were: Polly Ann Bignell, Clara Bryant, Marjorie Clark, Fern Duey Paul, Josephine Earl, Virginia Hardin, Ruth Lang, Hazel Ziggafoos, Ruth Mahood and Beulah G. Champ.

The purpose of the organization is to foster an interest in wholesome dramatics and provide the means for uniting socially students, alumni and instructors who have histronic talents. Theta Alpha Phi aims to do for dramatics what Phi Kappa Delta is doing for forensics. While the organization known as Wesleyan Dramatic Club has for many years offered to students an opportunity in Dramatic Art, the installation of a Theta Alphi Phi chapter gives the Dramatic Club member the advantage of working for the national honor of membership in that fraternity.

Theta Alphi Phi has an enrollment of fifty-six chapters and in this number many Wesleyan and State Universities are represented. Through its Journal "The Cue" these chapters are kept in touch with each other and a knowledge of what the other universities are doing is an inspiration. The national convention held automatically introduce and bring together men and women with like tastes from various schools. This furnishes a fine opportunity and stimulates the growth and general interest in the BEST DRAMA. The fraternity has helped to give dramatic production in general a higher tone and a more important place in the various colleges and universities where chapters exist. Unless we insist upon quality for our watchword we cannot justify our existence as a national fraternity.

The club has presented a series of four high class plays this year. They are "Mr. Pim Passes By"—A. A. Milne; "Mrs. Temple's Telegram"—Wyatt and Morris; "Icebound"—Owen Davis, and "You and I"—Philip Barry.

Debate

Saturday, April Eighteenth, 1925

It's eight o'clock -and seventeen minutes. The third Judge has just been seated. (You notice the word "Judge" is spelled with a big "J," when it's a debate it should never be spelled with a small letter). The last debate of the 1924-25 Season is about to begin. Four men stand together behind the curtain; each carries a debate box in the crook of his left arm. A famous Western University claims two of these men; dubs them "the best debaters that ever defended the name of Southern California." The other two are ours, WESLEYAN'S. Casteel and Norlin shake hands with our guests, "Ned" Lewis and "Bill" Barber; and then, step out upon the platform for the final battle in this year's series of eighteen debates.

It's one hour and one-half later. The Affirmative has shown the timber of the Coyote Spirit by the way in which they have said, "Well done!" to a victorious foe; and the 1924-25 Season is ended.

For one of these Wesleyan men, this California debate was not the last contest of the year; it was the last in four years. When Merill Norlin was a Freshman, he helped his class to win the Class Championship. And every year since, save one, his name has been written on the lists of Wesleyan Debaters. This year he not only took his place on the platform, but, as Squad Manager and as President of Pi Kappa Delta. he has definitely served the cause of forensics. He knows how to play WINNER; better, he knows how to play LOSER; the 1925-26 Varsity Squad will miss, Merrill Norlin.

Our Negative opened the season with Howard Hamilton, Charles Paine, and Paul Copeland the recipients of a unanimous decision against Cotner. Later in the season Paul Montgomery, Hazel Mason, and Elizabeth Connely took their turn at helping to win negative votes for Wesleyan. Under the Captaincy of Paul Copeland the Negative did a piece of briefing that would have gladdened the heart of any Coach.

Miss Connely led the first all women's team that Wesleyan has produced. Our girls—Miss Connely and Miss Mason—managed to score one vote against Wyoming's famous women debators; and to win an "expert judged" debate from Morningside.

If you had heard the William Jewell debate, you would have been proud of our Negative—evenn though we did not bring home a decision. And you would understand a lot of things. For one thing, you might understand, if you had heard Hamilton debate that evening, just why the High School team of which he was captain, last year, won the High School Championship of Nebraska. But from the excellence of the work done by the two Sophomores on that team, Paul Copeland and Miss Connely, you might be at a loss to understand how the Freshmen won the Class Championship. For that's exactly what happened: Three Freshmen: Hamilton, Jensen and Montgomery put on "Seven League" debating boots and walked over Juniors, Seniors and Sophomores to the Class Championship of 1924. As the Chancellor said: "With such debaters as these in the Freshmen and Sophomore classes, what will we do, two years from now!"

The affirmative: Axel Jenson, Herbert Grey, Aubrey Carrell, and Merrill Norlin, was captained by John Casteel, "the best in the State of Nebraska." (No, we didn't say that about him—it was a Grand Island man who said it.) "Anyhow" these men certainly "came through" in "great style," even though they defended a difficult case against strong opposition. The Captain of the Omaha University Negative was very much surprised that we won affirmative decisions against Washburn and Park. But we weren't so much surprised as pleased; that's the way we wanted it.

* * *

In the book, "when we were very young" by A. A. Milne, Christopher Robin has christened his swan "Pooh." He says: "This is a very fine name for a swan;" and we think it is a very fine name for a judge's decision, because if you want it, and the judge gives it to the other side ("which is a thing" judges "are good at) then, you can pretend that you were just saying (Pooh, to show how little you wanted" it. It's been a good year; it's been wholesome to hear Midland say: "We'd rather BEAT Wesleyan than any other school in the State." And to hear Park say: "We'd rather LOSE TO WESLEYAN than to win from most schools.

Oratory

Professor Curry says: "It is not surprising to find the Bible full of the spirit of oratory * * *. Probably no form of human expression is more dignified and important than Oratory * * *. Wherever oratory has flourished, liberty, civilization, and progress have been found. Where it has been despised or neglected, there liberty has lost its hold."

Oratory has not "been despised" at Wesleyan this year. Fifteen college orators entered the tryouts. The "All Wesleyan" oratorical scholarship was won by John Casteel with his oration, "If We Would Have It Perfect." Casteel is only a Sophomore, consequently he did not enter the State Oratorical Contest this year; but wait. Second honors went to Emilio del Rosario; his oration was entitled, "A Challenge To American Democracy." With a slightly revised version of the same oration Mr. Rosario won the right to represent Wesleyan in the State Oratorical. In the State Oratorical, which was held at Midland, Mr. Rosario honored Wesleyan and himself by his work; and he was declared Championship Orator of Nebraska. But he did not stop there; he went on, winning through the Interstate against strong opposition. Here we must pause and wait for time, because oratorical history for 1925 is not yet made. Mr. Rosario will go to the National finals which are to be held at Evanston, Illinois, under the direction of Northwestern University School of Speech.

We'll tell you the rest next year! ! ! !

THE WESLEYAN is the official student publication for the University. It endeavors to present activities of the campus in a manner which is representative of Nebraska Wesleyan college life. As far as possible, it keeps its readers in touch with former students, teachers, and alumni. The paper is circulated among students, faculty members, and friends of Wesleyan. Two hundred fifty high schools receive the publication each week.

THE WESLEYAN is a seven column, four page weekly, published thirty-five times during the school year. Besides the regular edition the following special editions were edited during the current school year: Football edition; Basketball edition; Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior and Senior Class editions; Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Number; Dramatic Club edition; Forensic Edition, and Commencement Number.

Y. M. C. A.

Several years ago a group of faculty men and students saw a need. They saw men coming to Nebraska Wesleyan who had been active in Sunday School and League work back home, but they also saw these men, fine well meaning fellows, become more and more engrossed in the activities of college life until thru mere thoughtlessness they seemed to drift away from Christian service in any field. To them all was new. They would gladly have resumed the work which they had so well started, but thru lack of opportunity and encouragement did not. It was to fill this need that the Y. M. C. A. came upon the campus.—To make each man feel more his responsibility and opportunity to help his fellows in better ways of living; to aid each to establish contacts with the proper fields of endeavor; and to help to build a character which will withstand the acid test.

If the Y. M. C. A. were to have a motto, it would be "The Other Fellow First". The greatest of all values lies in the fields of personal friendship. The first task of the cabinet, but in reality it is only a pleasure, is to become acquainted with all new men, make real friends of them, find what their problems are, and how, thru friendly cooperation, they may be of aid. Every effort is made to create a homelike atmosphere for the college men, many of whom are strangers, who if not befriended, would shortly feel that no one was interested in their welfare, and would regret that they had entered Wesleyan. The friendship council, which includes the cabinet, is constantly trying to develop an attitude of genuine friendliness thruout the entire campus. A friendly "Hello" week was one feature of the "Y" program.

The Tuesday morning meetings thruout the entire year have been especially helpful. Some of the questions discussed were: what should be my attitude as a Christian man toward dancing? Toward tobacco? Each member was given an opportunity to state his opinion, and reasons to support such a stand. Each meeting was for the purpose of strengthening the convictions which every Wesleyan man should have deep seated in his character.

The cabinet meetings which were for the purpose of keeping in touch with the needs of the fellows, and for securing the maximum of service for the men of the campus, were held each Wednesday evening for an hour following the student prayer service. These meetings were of a devotional nature which added inspiration and earnestness to each executive of the association. The executive council meeting, also for a more efficient planning of the work of the "Y", was held each Tuesday afternoon. The morning watch, which was held each Friday morning from 7:30 until 7:55 proved a source of strength and inspiration to all who attended.

The 1925-26 association will be led by a group of very able and very much interested men. If perchance in the work of the "Y" 1924-25 some of the opportunities have been overlooked, we can only hope for a better, more earnest and more inspirationl year to come—A year that will build into the lives of Wesleyan men a sincerity, an earnestness, and a desire to live for the other fellow.

"I have no wealth of gold to give away,
But I can pledge to worthy causes these:
I'll give my strength, my days and hours of ease,
My finest thoughts and courage when I may,
And take some deed accomplished for my pay.
I cannot offer much in silver fees,
But I can serve while richer persons play,
And with my presence fill some vacancies."

"There are some things beyond the gift of gold,
A richer treasure's needed now and then:
Some joys life needs which are not bought and sold—
The high occasion often calls for men.
Some for release from service give their pelf,
But he gives most who freely gives himself."

Wesleyan Hears Good Lectures

NEIHARDT IS WESLEYAN GUEST

Nebraska's poet laureate visited Wesleyan's campus a few weeks ago and read from his epic cycle of poems to the delight of the students. John G. Neihardt recited his poems and dramatic portions from the cycle. The aside comments were quite as interesting as the poems. He read for more than an hour to the largest chapel audience of the year.

STANLEY HIGH GIVES LECTURES

Stanley High '17, assistant secretary of the Methodist foreign mission board, came back to his Alma Mater the second week of March and gave chapel talks on the situation abroad and how it relates to a Christian world. He talked on Europe, Russia, the race problem, peace and war, and gave a resume of the general situation abroad.

Mr. High has traveled about the world several times. Last fall he and Mrs. High returned from several months in Russia. He went abroad last year as a correspondent for THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR. He is a very entertaining speaker and his chapel talks were enthusiastically attended by townspeople as well as students. The general tone of his observations was optimistic and moderate.

Mr. High was accompanied west by his wife. They spent March in University Place, the guests of Rev. and Mrs. F. A. High. They were guests at numerous social affairs during their visit. Mr. High made a number of speeches in the Lincoln vicinity. On their return east they went to their new home in New York City.

BISHOP WALDORF VISITS WESLEYAN

Bishop Ernest L. Waldorf of Wichita, Kas. visited Wesleyan's campus and conducted a series of meetings for three days culminating with the day of prayer services, March 24. More than one hundred of Wesleyan's students during those three days pledged themselves for some form of life service in Christian activities.

The week before Bishop Waldorf visited the campus Chancellor Schreckengast spent the chapel hours discussing This Mind by Bishop McDowell, as a preparation for the week of prayer.

* * * * * *

Dr. F. C. Eiselen, President of Garrett Biblical Institute, delivered an address before the student body at convocation Monday morning, April 6. Private conferences with students were held for the remainder of the day. Students who are anticipating ministerial work were especially invited to confer with Dr. Eiselen.

Miller, National secretary of the Y. M. C. A. was the speaker at the regular Y Chapel Tuesday morning.

"There are three things," said Mr. Miller, "that are tests as to whether we are going forward or going backwards. These are a growing sense of respect for personality, a growing sense of mutual responsibility, and a growing sense of personal integrity.

"It is interesting to apply these tests to activities, industries and countries. Do we have these three things in our country? In any college one has a fair view of society in general. All the problems and issues which concern society and government are found in colleges. It helps to think of ourselves sometimes instead of projecting our thoughts into society at large.

"In society we are intimately roped together by a mutual interdependence. All society depends upon the persistence with which we hold our place and help others up. Realizing that we are all intimately bound together in this society let us by these three tests to see what progress we are making up the heights of knowledge and how much we are helping others.

"In some colleges the movement in regard to these three points is backward. If the standard of honor is going down in colleges, there will be an increasing number of dishonorable men in our government.

"Are you living the sort of life in college that makes for respect of these three tests? Some colleges set up as the standard of success the number of activities in which one is engaged. Man needs both activity and quiet, for the quiet is the time in which man feeds his spiritual nature."

COACH GLENN A. PRESTON

The season of 1924 was one of comparative success. Through Coach Preston, games were scheduled with live colleges and fast organizations and Wesleyan's name began to loom on the cage horizon.

Through him interest was heightened in the student body and as a result came a greatly increased attendance to the games.

Thanks, Coach Preston, you've hung Wesleyan's sign out where all the neighboring states have read.

During the season, McGlasson, letter man at Nebraska State University, was secured as head line coach. With his superior training qualities he made one of Nebraska Wesleyan's best defensive lines. One might term his line as a "stone wall."

MCGLASSON, Line Coach

ELVIN GEMBLER, Captain, Goehner
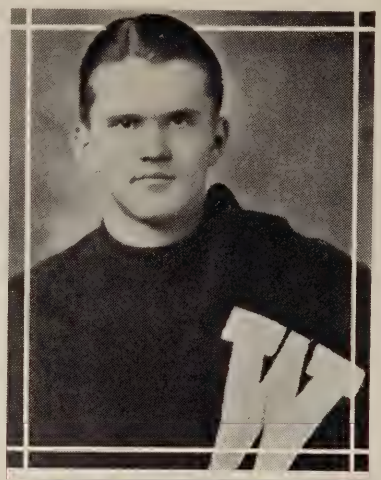
Halfback, Third Year, Senior, Weight 160

"Pop" is one of the fastest backs in the conference. Gembler was usually good for a gain either through the line or on a try around end. A Captain worthy of leading the 1924 Coyotes.

FRANCIS ALABASTER, Uni. Place
Quarterback, Fourth Year, Senior, Weight 148

Alabaster is one of the greatest quarterbacks Wesleyan ever had. He is likewise without peer in the North Central Conference as an open field runner. Last year Ally was named on the North Central All Star team and this year he was accorded honorable mention.



HAROLD BOELL, University Place
Guard, First Year, Sophomore
Weight 165

Boell is another of Wesleyan's fighting guards. "Hick" has developed greatly in the past year and with two more seasons to play he should develop into a great guard.

CHARLES CLARK, North Loup, Neb.
Halfback, Second Year, Sophomore
Weight 172

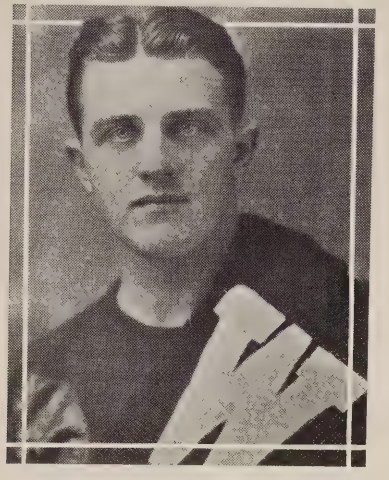
"Chuck" came out in the Grand Island game last year and since then he has been one of the surest ground gainers on the Coyote squad. Clark showed up particularly well against Hastings.

DELL DANKER, Riverton, Nebr.
Halfback, Second Year, Sophomore
Weight 173

Danker is one of the hardest hitting backs on the team. His development was cut short last year when his ankle was broken in the South Dakota skirmish, which slowed him up a little. With two more years to play Dank should become a wonderful backfield man.

DONAVON DINNIS, Lewiston, Nebr.
Halfback, First Year, Sophomore
Weight 152

Dinnis played his first game of football last spring when spring football practice was terminated with a game between two selected teams. With two more years to play "Dinny" should develop into one of the slickest halfbacks Wesleyan has had for some time.



OWEN DONAHOE, Decatur, Nebr.-
Tackle, Fourth Year, Senior
Weight 190

Donny was the mainstay of the line this year. He seemed to always know where the play was going, and to be there and break it up before it was well under way. Donahoe is one of the greatest tackles Wesleyan has ever had. He was placed on the conference All Star second team.

EHME FRUHLING, Franklin, Nebr.
Tackle, First Year, Sophomore
Weight 191

Buck played almost any position in the line to perfection. He was handicapped somewhat by injuries. With more years to play "Old Sol" is expected to make a stellar lineman.

WILLIAM GENTRY, Gering
End, First Year, Sophomore
Weight 182

Bill played a good game either at end or further in the forward wall. Gentry is one of the players we will look to for great things in the seasons to come.

DONALD HARRINGTON
Uni. Place Nebr.
End and Backfield, Third Year, Senior
Weight 158

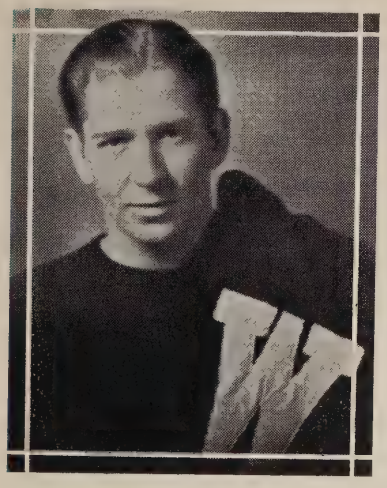
Don was one of the hardest hitting, and speediest backs on the team this year. It was very seldom that he was thrown for no gain, while his ability to snag passes was a factor in most of Wesleyan's scores this year.

EARL RAITT, Burton, Nebr.
Tackle, Fourth Year, Senior
Weight 188

Raitt is the other half of the best pair of tackles Wesleyan has seen in many a season. The "Fighting Parson" and Donahoe, made a brace of tackles that would be hard to equal. Raitt specialized in breaking up punts and recovering fumbles.

RALPH HURLBUT, Uni. Place
End, Third Year, Senior
Weight 172

Injuries kept Hully on the bench part of the time this season, nevertheless, he played a game that was given honorable mention in the selection of the conference All Star teams. Hurlbut will graduate this year after three seasons of varsity football leaving a gap that will be hard to fill.



RICHARD HATTEN, Fullerton, Nebr.
Center, First Year, Sophomore
Weight 187

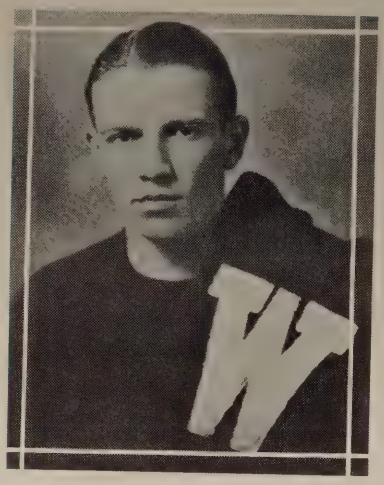
Hatten has the weight, the fight and the ability to make a great center and shows signs of becoming a tower of strength in the line next year.

CLAUDE HUYCK
Pawnee City, Nebr.
Center, Second Year, Sophomore
Weight 178

Huyck alternated at center and tackle this year. In both positions he worked well and was one of the most valuable man on the squad. Huyck was given honorable mention by North Central coaches in the selection of the All Star teams.

MAX ROPER, University Place
Quarterback, First Year, Sophomore
Weight 141

Max is the lightest man on the squad but possessed of that valuable asset called "football brains." Roper played well whenever he was sent in and demonstrated ability to run the team as quarterback.



EVERETT SAUNDERS
University Place
Guard, First Year, Sophomore
Weight 155

Saunders is a natural football player, backed up by the "fight" that makes a great lineman. Throughout the season Saunders outplayed opponents that were heavier by many pounds. Saunders was never put out of a game because of injuries.

FRED SCHULTZ, Bridgewater, Ia.
End, First Year, Sophomore
Weight 172

Shultz played a great game at end although he was hampered greatly by an injury which stuck with him all season. Fritz was especially good on the defense at breaking up attempts to forward pass.

OSCAR WIBERG, Captain Elect, Sedan, Nebr.
Fullback, Second Year, Sophomore
Weight 192

"WeeWee" is Wesleyan's triple threat man. He can run, pass or kick and do all of them well. Coach "Dopey" Workman, of Simpson, who saw Wesleyan play Ames early in the season says that Wiberg is one of the best defensive fullbacks he ever saw.

DALE LINCH

Linch has the honor of being Wesleyan's first Student Manager. He filled the place well and was awarded an official "W."

WIBERG CARRIES THE BALL THRU COTNER

COACH DOW

Much of the season's success in basket-ball has been due to the efficient coaching of Coach Ren Dow. From the time that Coach Dow took the University Place High School team to the finals, he has been the trainer of winning basketball teams.

The coach is a man who sees to it that his men are in fit condition. The hard training which he puts his men through conditions them, so they suffer no ill effects from the hardest games. He cares for his men and makes sure that they do not suffer from undue exposure or exertion.

Coach Dow knows the science of the basket game. He makes careful study and experiment with the latest and most effective plays. Dow has been a star player himself, and goes out and shows the fellows how it is done.

Wesleyan has been fortunate in securing a man of Dow's ability for the past season, and will be doubly fortunate if she secures Dow, or a coach comparable to Dow for the next cage season.

ALABASTER, Captain, Guard.

" Ally " is capable of playing most any position on the team. He is considered without doubt the fastest man on the floor and it always takes two or more to down him. This is " Ally's " last year.

ALABASTER, Captain, Guard

LODER STEEVES WIBERG CALVERT

ED LODER, Forward

Ed made his first letter this year. He has one more year to play and it is without doubt that he will make a crack forward with another season's experience.

PAUL STEEVES, Center

Paul is noted for his superior reaching ability and a center that was most always certain of a tip off. He also has one more year to play, which will prove himself a "stick" center. Steeves was high point man in several games.

OSCAR WIBERG, Guard

"Wee Wee" is also a fast man on the floor. One must class him as a first class athlete. His part in the game was a real fighting guard. He has two more years to play on the varsity.

JOHN CALVERT, Forward

This is also Johnny's last year on the varsity squad. He has always been known to play a hard clean game and never afraid to go after the ball. He has a good eye for the basket and was one of the Coyote high point men.

BOELL HARRINGTON YETTER

JESS BOELL, Guard

Jess was a very valuable man on this year's squad. He was the man who, with his keen eye for the basket, saved the Coyotes from a loss to Doane on our home floor. This is his last year.

DONALD HARRINGTON, Guard

" Don's " playing was not flashy but he got into the game and fought. He is a man who says little but does much. He made his first letter this year. This is his senior year.

HENRY YETTER, Forward

" Hank " has proved himself a forward that is hard to beat. He not only has great ability to hit the hoop square, but his playing is always consistent and heady. It was due to many of his long shots that helped pave the way to victories.

First Squad

Second Row: Boell, Harrington, Coach Dow, Capt. Alabaster, H. Boell.

Out of the squad of first string men, eight letter men were selected. Several other players had almost enough hours to permit them to receive a letter, but were for various circumstances, forced to discontinue their activities before the required time was played. Coach Dow's line of reserves were especially strong, and was the means of helping the team out of several difficulties. Four of the first team men will not be back next year. All of these men served four full years. They are: Alabaster, Calvert, Jess Boell, and Harrington.

Pan Athletic Banquet

One of the peppiest celebrations in Wesleyan's history took place December 8 when the Pan-Athletic banquet, a new event, was held. This banquet is an outgrowth of the old football banquet held for so many years at the end of each season and attended by football men and their ladies and by invited guests.

The banquet this year was attended by about four hundred and is second only to the Pan-Wesleyan in its importance and in the enthusiasm of those participating.

Besides students a hundred business men of University Place were present. This is the first real boosting of Wesleyan athletics done officially by University Place business men and the occasion was heralded with genuine enthusiasm by faculty and students.

With the entrance of the university women into athletics with opportunity to win "W's" which equal the value of the men's "W's," a new era was opened for athletics at Wesleyan. Hence the new way of honoring the participants and of celebrating.

Rev. E. M. Furman '96 of Fairbury, Nebr., Wesleyan's first quarterback, was toastmaster. Mr. Furman is a member of the board of trustees and is on the athletic committee. His interest in this part of student life was evidenced throughout his part of the program.

The toasts responded to were: "Student and Activities," John Calvert; "Women's Athletics," Gladys Coatman; "Business Men and Athletics," Ralph E. Harrington; "Faculty and Athletics," E. H. Wells. Homer Hubbard played two violin solos after which the "W's" were awarded.

Mr. Harrington, the business men's speaker, suggested that the University Place business men might start a new stadium even if that be a very simple structure, enough to shelter the spectators.

Letters were presented by Mrs. Clara Brandt, professor of physical education to Nettie Clark, Gem White and Esther Phipps. Coach Preston presented letters to the men entered in all sports. Awards were made to three in cross country work, six in basket ball, thirteen in track, three in tennis, and nineteen in football.

Knights of the Koyote Klan

K. K. K. and C. C. C.

The two pep organizations at the N. W. U. go by the name of Coyote Cadette Corps and Knights of the Koyote Klan. The Coyote Cadette Corps is composed of two girls from each sorority or social organization while seven men are chosen from the fraternities for the Knights of the Koyote Klan. (While the latter had the job of stirring up pep last year, the addition of the C. C. C.'s this year furnished a stimulant for much better work.

Coyote Cadette Corps

W Club

The " W " Club is composed entirely of men who have won their letters in some branch of sport. The prime purpose of this organization is to promote clean athletics and good sportsmanship. It also aids the College Council in the annual High School invitation meet and takes charge of entertaining visiting teams.

Next Years Coaching Staff

C. L. Dow, present basketball coach, has been selected as Director of Athletics and head coach for next year. Prof. H. A. Durham, this year's freshmen football coach has been named assistant coach and Francis Alabaster and Donald Harrington will serve as freshmen coaches.

Nebraska Wesleyan is indeed fortunate in securing a coaching staff of merit to direct the athletes who will wear the Yellow and Brown in interscholastic contests. We feel confident that these men will produce teams that will maintain the enviable record that has always been Wesleyan's.

In Dow, Wesleyan has a man who is fitted in every way to guide the athletic destiny of our University. He has had wide experience in coaching, having tutored winning teams in all branches of sport. Dow began his coaching at Miltonville, Kansas. After the war he came to University Place High School, where he was coach for over two years. While at University Place Dow coached a basketball team which went to the finals in Class A of the state tournament, losing to Omaha Tech after a thrilling battle. Dow left University Place to accept a coaching position at Fremont High, where he remained for two years. Since he left Fremont Dow has been Director of Physical Education at Whittier Junior high. He has attended school at Kansas state Normal and the University of Nebraska.

Howard Durham, who will be assistant coach, is well known to Wesleyan students. He has been Professor of Chemistry for the past several years and has helped with the coaching of football and track. Several years ago Durham was football coach at University Place high school, tutoring a team which gave University Place its only gridiron victory over Lincoln high. Durham has the added distinction of being the one to score Wesleyan's only touchdown against the University of Nebraska. He was holder of the Nebraska state conference discus throw record for a number of years.

Their experience has made Dow and Durham admirably fitted for the position which they have accepted but the character of both men is the factor which makes Wesleyan so fortunate in securing them to direct Wesleyan athletics. Wesleyan athletics are more than mere teams. They typify the best in athletics, which is in keeping with the ideals of Nebraska Wesleyan. With coaches of this sort Wesleyan students may be assured that our teams next year will be true Wesleyan teams.

It is altogether fitting that two of Wesleyan's athletic stars should be selected to act as freshmen coaches. It is upon the freshmen that the strength of the Varsity teams will ultimately depend, and no two men could be better calculated to train the freshmen who are to be the Varsity players. "Ally" is one of the most famous football players Wesleyan has ever had. In 1923 he was unanimously selected for a position on the North Central conference mythical "All Star" team. He has played four years of football and basketball, captaining this year's cage team and has represented Wesleyan in track. Harrington has been one of Wesleyan's strongest players in football and was a member of this year's Varsity basketball team.

Wesleyan has had many star athletes in the past years and equally deserving of recognition is Oscar Wiberg. Last year, before the adoption of the freshmen rule, "WeeWee" set a new shot put record in the North Central conference, winning this event at the conference meet held in Sioux City. He also established a new state conference record. Because of his success in throwing the weight this spring it is probable that Wiberg will better his record in both conferences. Wiberg took fourth place in the shot put event at the Drake Relays with a throw that was better than the former Drake Relay record.

Haul of Memories

The writer of the Book of Proverbs probably reached his conclusion that there is nothing new under the sun after serving a sentence as joke editor of the Hebrew year book.

'Then we're engaged?"
"Of course."
"And am I the first girl you ever loved?"
"No, dear, but I'm harder to suit now than I used to be."

---

"What are the girls doin' now?" asked the visitor at the phys. ed. demonstration.
"Those are setting up exercises," explained a friend.
"Looks to me like settin' down exercises," corrected the visitor.

"So the doctor recommended that you go to a warmer climate. What was the nature of the trouble you consulted him about?"
"I called there to collect a bill."

A fellow seldom laughs.
Why don't we wear the smile that we

---

"Why do you use such a long cigar holder?" queried the freshman.
"Because I'm supposed to keep away from tobacco," replied the senior.

---

"I thought you could keep a secret."
"I did keep it a week. Do you think I'm a cold storage plant?"

---

Mr. Cohen: "Ikkey, I vant you to stop snickering and grabbin' your nose vit your hand."
Ikkey: "Aw fadder! Can't I have some fun on my own hook?"

"It doesn't seem right," said the stude with worn out shoes."
"What doesn't seem right?"
"That a mere cow can afford to wear all that leather."

---

In the absence of a certain peace officer of the city, Carl Johnson was sworn in to enforce the law. It was night. He stopped a criminal.
"Sir," said he, "your beacon has ceased its functions."
"What?" queried the autoist.
"Your illuminator, I say, is enshrouded in unmitigated oblivion."
"Really! But I don't quite—"
"The effulgence of your irradiator has evanesced."
"My dear fellow, I—"
"The transversal ether oscillations in your incandenser have been discontinued."
Just then a senior yelled from across the street: "Hey, mister, yer lamp's out."

"Is he?"

Honest Clerk: "As soon as you leave, sir."

"I hear Mr. Stude asked that six bankers be his pall-bearers."
"Yes, they carried him thru college. He thought they might as well finish the job."

"Now I am even with the world," said Fratman. "I owe as many people as I don't owe."

"Is he progressive?"
"Well, he wears a last year's suit, drives a this year's car, and lives on next month's allowance."

"What do you think of these Turkish atrocities?"
"I never smoked any of them."

"Yes?" says the silver-haired wife.
"You remember the diamond I gave you seventy-five years ago? I paid the lastly easy payment on it this week, and am proud to announce that it is now altogether yours."

---

Dr. Waddell: "I see in your eye signs of anaemia, liver trouble, and, I fear, chronic nervous affection."
Patient: "Look in the other eye, Doc. You are looking in my glass eye."

---

Bassett: "Did any of your family ever make a brilliant marriage?"
Hartley: "Only my wife."

Riddle: Why is there such an affinity between colored people and chickens?
Answer: Because one is descended from Ham, the other from eggs.

Prof. Jensen: "What is steel wool?"
Snyder: "Wool sheared from hydraulic rams."

Feminine voice (Icily): "I'm not expecting you."
Milt: "Then I'll surprise you."

Lyre's Lyre

FIRST LIAR'S LILT

When I was a little wart I knew Paul Michaud, and lemme tell you his own fraternity brothers don't know the half of it. In his elementary school days he was the hero of the little red school house.

As soon as the classes were dismissed for the recess period the boys went storming out to the ball diamond. It was necessary to make a ruling that Paul be the last man to bat, because he used to knock the ball so far that recess would be over before the fielders could return with it.

Paul was a star boxer, too. Occasionally, a dispute would arise over the rules of the game. It was then that Paul sallied forth with his might and brawn and made the big boys of the neighborhood beg for mercy. His victims never questioned his decisions more than once.

Such an early training gave Paul dynamics, persistency, will and, fight. These qualities, Paul told me the other day, enabled him to believe everything the profs. said, to laugh at their jokes, and guess correctly what they are thinking about. The result was that he made Phi Kappa Phi. I asked Paul recently if he had any advice to give to young students, and he replied sadly:

"What does it profit a man if he miss the better part of his college life and gain Phi Kappa Phi?"

SECOND LIAR'S BIG ONE

Letter of the Senior Class President to Joe Owens, written during spring vacation:

Dear Joe: I know you will be interested in these few lines telling you about the reception for me when I got home for the spring vacation.

Everyone from the old home town was at the depot. Yes, everyone was there—old folks, young folks, boys, girls, babies. I know they were there, because I counted them—all seventy-nine of 'em. As the train stopped the band began to play. I asked a native what the number was called and he replied, "Papa, Better Watch Your Step."

When I stepped off the train everybody hollored "Ray for Allen!!!" Then I was placed at the head of a parade that led to the city hall. Here the mob cried "Speech! Give us words of wisdom!" So I did.

I got up on the platform and in a deep, masculine voice expounded to them. I told them about Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Professor Jensen, and all the other great men I knew. At the close of my oration I announced that if anyone had any questions I would be glad to answer them. A boy with a great yearning for facts came up and asked me if I thought I would be great. I just couldn't tell a lie, so I said: "Of course."

I just got home from making this speech and I must close now as vacation is over, and I must be back on time or pay the three berries.

Yours in adoration of both of us,

ALLEN BURKHARDT.

THIRD LIAR'S BRAIN STORM

It was only by accident that I came to Nebwesuni to educate the profs. I had intended to go to another college. But as my dad was bringing me there, the car struck a banana hide at the corner of Holdrege Street and Warren Avenue and the car skidded in the direction of Nebwesuni. So dad dumped me out here.

It has been a great blessing for Wesleyan, and she is bound to have a great future. I have always enjoyed chapel, as I sit so far back I cannot hear what is said. I have also enjoyed the classes. So much pleasure is derived from bringing enlightenment to a backward group like the profs. I have had some distressing experiences in getting this information across.

I remember of finding one of the profs. sad and despondent in his room one day. I learned that his ma-in-law was staying with him but couldn't drink the city water and he had to buy distilled water for her. Such procedure was expensive, so I says "Why don't you distil your own water? I am taking chemistry, and I know the formula for distilled water. It is H-two-S-O-four." He thanked me and said he would do so, but I guess he didn't have time before his ma-in-law died, because I saw a notice in the paper next day of her death. The prof. sure was grateful for this information, though, because he had threatened to flunk me the first quarter, and I got a grade of A under him. He didn't teach chemistry.

FOURTH LIAR'S REMEMBRANCES

The outstanding thing about me except my greatness is my wonderful memory. I remember when they were getting ready to ship me out of heaven down to this sinful globe. I was just ready to start when one of the inspector angels yelled:

"Hey, hold onto that kid a moment. Minerva forgot to put any brains in his skull."

So they opened me up and jammed in the brains. Then, just as I stepped into the golden gas cart I heard the same head angel say:

"Oh heck! We have been so excited over that new shipment of harps that just came in we got balled up and put in two memories."

"They're gettin' awful restless down on the earth," says the angel chaffeur, "His pa phoned an hour ago and said they were waitin' on him. Better let him go the way he is."

"All right, let 'er rip," says the angel shipping clerk, "and we'll just not put any memory in the next guy, and they can use him for a college professor."

When I first came on the campus, I remember how the Nebwesuni profs. came racing out to meet me, shrieking, "Eureka! Eureka! We have found it."

"Found what?" I asked.

"The missing link," said one simple looking prof.

"No, you boob," says another, "but we have found a student of whom we can someday be proud of which." (My auditory memory is the most dependable of all my memories and I know these are the exact words.)

The first week I was here my most despisable prof. got laid out as the result of matrimonial onslaught and couldn't attend classes for over a week. I took his place on the platform. I had some trouble with his beginners classes, but I got along fine with advanced saps. I had one woman in a beginners' class who was trying to pass as only seventeen years of age and she used to ask a question before I could make the assignment and dismiss the class. So one day I spoke up, and says:

"I'm glad you spoke up. It reminded me that I wanted to ask you who that girl was at your birthday party twenty-seven years after you were born." (I wasn't at the party, but I remembered hearing the angels say it was some party.)

That was all the trouble I have ever had, but I will never make a success at education. I have too much memory.

When Two Hearts Beat As One

Tips For Beginners

Since one glance has convinced you that there is no sence to this cross word puzzel I challange you to use your wits and put the letters in order. You will then have a list of people who can at least make up their minds.

Do You Remember 'Way Back When:
There were six tennis courts?

Iral Anderson: "Have you graded my paper yet?"
Prof. "No."
Anderson: "When you come to it, remember it's not justice but mercy that I want."

---

Prof. Wells, dispensing information class: "Now if an American goes to some other country and gets killed, he can sue the government which permitted the murder."

---

Helen Myers: "Do you like codfish balls?"
Helen Gregg: "I never go to dances."

---

Ambitious Songster to Dean Witte: "What I want to know is am I a bass or a baritone?"
Dean Witte: "You are not."

Prof. Gibbs: "Who was the first banker?"
Student Volunteer: "Pharaoh's daughter. She drew a little prophet from the rushes on the bank."

"Naw, honest, fellas, 'this ain't my birthday,' declared the tender brother as he saw the menace of paddles, "My birthday ain't until a year from today."

---

Catherine Birdsey: "I've lost a lot of weight this spring."
Oro Sister: "I don't see it."
Catherine Birdsey: "No, of course you don't. I've lost it."

---

Prof. Hollowell: "Writers are not born; they are made oftentimes."
Frosh: "Just the same it's an advantage to be born."

A young chap with a pretty but flirtatious fiance wrote to a rival: "I hear you have been kissing my girl. Come to my office at 11 on Saturday; I want to settle this thing."
The reply came thus: "I have received your circular letter and will be at the meeting."

---

The coed had just bought ten cents worth of asafetida and had told the drug clerk to charge it.
"What is your name?" asked the pharmacist.
"Schlichtemeier, Clara Schlichtemeier," was the reply.
"Take it free," said the clerk, "I would not write asafetida and Schlichtemeier both for ten cents."

---

"I looked thru the key-hole last nite when ?? was here."
"What did you find out?"
"The light."

Certain profs. maintain there is no such word as "can't." These optimists should try to light a match by striking it across a cake of soap.

Voice (over phone): "This is the Citizens State Bank. We just wanted to tell you your account was two cents over drawn."

Feminine Voice (after moment's pause): "Gosh, do you have to have it right away?"

---

Hully: "I think Dean Ally is too small a man for the position he holds."

Jack Gas: "Oh, I don't know. He called me on the carpet the other day."

---

Bootblack: "Light or dark, sir?"

Prof.: "It doesn't matter, only don't give me a piece of the neck."

Si Gillan: "What time ya got, doc?"

Doc: "'Bout ten fifteen."

Si G. (To Theo Brother): "See smarty! Now we got to run if we git to chapel by ten o'clock."

---

A. K. D.: "Who's there?"

Man at door: "Mr. Carr."

"What do I care if you missed your car? Go out and wait for another one."

---

"Prof. Lewis is certainly well read. He repeated an exquisite quotation last night."

"What was it?"

"I can't give you the exact words, but he said he'd rather be a something in a something than a something or other in a something else."

---

"I don't quite trust you, Lloyd. If I married you, I believe you'd lead a double life."

"Sure, Milly! I'm tired of a single one."

---

The greatest tragedy in the world: To be shipwrecked on a desert island with a crossword puzzle book and no pencil.

Whatever the Emergency Telephone Service Must Not Fail

Long before the flood waters recede, the telephone men hasten to repair the crippled wires.

Regardless of their personal safety they may need to cross the swollen stream in order that the telephone will respond to your command.

Mile after mile of telephone poles and wires may be torn down by sleet storms.

Tornadoes may snap off poles like so many matches.

But whatever the emergency, hardy telephone men get on the job without delay.

When your telephone is out of order you can rest assured that somewhere telephone men are at work bending every effort in order that service may be restored at the earliest possible moment.
